DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. In claim 1, lines 10-13, it appears to be an unbiased comparison to claim the relationship of the distance between the sliding rails with respect to the passenger seat portion, since the invention appears to be drawn solely to the back supporting device.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Smuk (#6,336,679).

Smuk shows a back supporting device comprising a pair of hollow left and right sliding rails (28a,28a'), two slide units each having a slidable element (28b,28b') received movably with a corresponding one of the left and right sliding rails, a connecting member (33) disposed outwardly of the corresponding one of the left and right sliding rails and connected fixedly to the slidable element, and a positioning unit.

Two supporting frames (40,42) have upper ends and lower ends that are connected respectively and pivotally to the connecting members of the slide units such that the upper ends of the supporting frames can pivot toward and away from each other about the pivotal connection of the lower ends. A back supporting mechanism has a backrest mounted to the supporting frames and a frame-positioning device disposed between the backrest and the supporting frames to position the backrest on the supporting frames such that the slidable elements of the slide units are movable respectively within the left and right sliding rails.

Response to Amendment

The examiner has reviewed and considered the applicant's comments in the Amendment, filed on July 5, 2005. Based on an updated search and reconsideration of the application, the examiner has decided to address the claims with a new prior art rejection. Accordingly, this Office action is considered to be Non-final.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Kanda et al, Downey et al, Yoshida et al, Chang, and Kojima are cited as showing similar types of back supporting device.
